LIVE CONCERTS AND MUSEUMS HELP YOU LIVE LONGER

Researchers have found that people who go to live concerts, shows and museums can outlive those who do not. Experts from University College London looked at the lifestyles of over 6,700 British people for 1. _____ years. When the experts examined how frequently people went out and what kinds of 2. _____ they attended, they found that those over fifty who went to concerts and shows regularly were less 3. _____ to die over the next 14 years. The researchers said that those over the age of 50 could prolong their life by 4. _____ with the “receptive arts” which include galleries, concerts, museums, musicals, the 5. _____ and the theatre. The research also showed that not only could concert goers live longer but they could also have more 6. _____.

According to the head researcher, Dr Daisy Fancourt, 7. _____ was a deciding factor in whether people went to concerts and engaged with the arts. The UK Health Secretary, Matt Hancock, believes there could be a lot of 8. _____ in the research, pointing out that arts and culture could improve things like mental health, ageing and 9. _____. He recently announced plans for the UK's National Health Service to use the arts to improve people's wellbeing and health. The researchers concluded, “The results highlight the importance of continuing to 10. _____ new social factors that affect our health.”
